

A KNIFE IN THE BACK

SEERSGATE:

What if the realm of spirits engages the natural part of the human through touch? What if, while walking around, the outlets given in the spirit realm become like a natural form of engagement? Let me explain a little further. The spirit realm can interact with those in the natural realm. Humans can conjure up a demon from the spirit realm to engage. To conjure up a demon is to use a ceremonial ritual that engages the spirit realm, bringing on a chain of bondage through engagement.

With Yahweh, He wants humans to engage Him in spirit and in truth. This way of worship crosses over to a spiritual way of engagement that is activated through the laws under Kingdom citizenship. The only way to worship Yahweh in spirit and in truth is to engage through spirit-to-spirit yielding. Yahweh is ready to engage us and gives His permission to cross into what His Kingdom culture gives through interaction with the power from the Great Holy Spirit.

The spirit realm is just as real as what the natural realm presents. The Great Holy Spirit provides a bridge of engagement between the natural and the spiritual realms.

Every believer in the Kingdom of Yahweh will have the Great Holy Spirit within. Dabbling in sinful actions tends to hinder how we give out Yahweh's culture on Earth. The Great Holy Spirit awakens us to the deep spiritual things in the Kingdom of Yahweh. We have a spiritual transformation within, by the power of the Great Way King Jesus. And no one can enjoy the fruits of Kingdom citizenship unless connected to the Great King Jesus. This crossing over from spiritual death to eternal life in King Jesus brings levels of spiritual engagement from Yahweh's perspective of seeing.

One does not have to conjure up spirits to sense the presence of spirit beings. To engage a spirit comes with the ability to deal with both worlds—the natural and the spiritual.

You can feel, with natural senses, what is in the flesh, the natural realm. Under certain circumstances, your body (your earthly tent) can discern what is near in the spirit. This is where both realms—the natural and spirit—begin to come under a form of meeting. How can this be possible, where a human can discern what is not naturally seen?

How can humans walk into a room and feel the presence of angels? We are not referring to sensing them. We refer to feeling their spirit and knowing what they would look and feel like if they materialized and looked a fleshly way.

Let me share a brief story. I was with a small group of intercessors who met in a church cell group in someone's home a long time ago. Since this was not the first meeting, I engaged the group in a relaxed state of familiarity. We prayed as intercessors, with vigor, faith, and charismatic behaving ways. While praying, a lady said her natural back felt pain, so the prayer turned to focus on that way. The prayer team surrounded her. We were talking and praying and speaking Yahweh's will to the woman.

While praying with the group, I stood close behind her. I swept my hand up and down near her back in a fan-like motion. I was close enough to feel her back, but then I noticed a spiritual knife coming from her back, protruding out. My facial expressions alarmed the others, for there was no natural knife coming from her. The free air disappeared to where I felt an unseen knife, unseen with natural ways but felt to the touch as if right there in the natural.

The knife in her back was in the spirit realm, yet I felt the knife as if it were a natural knife placed in her back. I could sweep my hand near her back and touch the object. It caught me off guard, the ability to feel what could not naturally be seen. To pretend that what is in the spirit realm cannot carry tangible traits is not a plan that can prevail. A follower of King Jesus is a temple of the Great Holy Spirit. And the body, soul, and spirit must drink Yahweh's nature in spirit and in truth. Learning about what surrounds us is not a bad plan when we wait for the Great Holy Spirit to give us these exceptions through daily living.

Sharing this story is not so that everyone would try to feel around for something. We can engage what the spirit realm gives with the Great Holy Spirit's ways of Kingdom rules of engagement which means we wait and seek Him. We should not wander out on our own, trying to see and hear spirit dealings. Yahweh knows what is safer. Let us wait upon the LORD.
