

JUST AN ELOQUENT SPEAKER

Virginia Beach, Virginia, USA

YAHWEH SAYS:

Rock Church has been a major institution in this neighborhood for a very long while. They have a firm root in the Virginia Beach area, and so much comes out from this building here. They are an Exhorter church way, and they use their gift to bring a great influence into their local city. But the ways of the parents are fading away.

A “young son” now is the church head, but there is no office position that he carries. He is an eloquent speaker, but no anointing flows from his way. What will be the end result to this church that flows on getting attention based on a gift that covers the church by the original founders, when both are no more? Full-fledged striving will take over.

No power has a leading way. Their way is old and outdated spiritually. And their presentation is lacking. How can that be so straightforward? No help can be given if no one knows the true way they are moving.
