SEERSGATE GIVES A VIEW FROM A SEER PERSPECTIVE:

You have it all wrong. It's not the "devil-looking" clothing with the perverse movements that would bring Satan there in their midst. It's how the beats come forward in the music, a certain rhythm: that conjures Satan or any demonic spirit if yielded to seeking the way of darkness. It's how the beats give a swaying at a specific tempo and how it brings a rhythmic beat forward.

Satan is not red. Satan is grayish brown in appearance when materialized (Materialization is when a spirit appears as flesh; see Genesis 19). That is Satan's truest way in his presentation, not red. No red tail.

Satan has tricked you into looking at a deflection from how he comes with conjuring music.

And no, Satan did not hold value to what they presented in their performance. The singers are only low-level workers, wounded by their dealings of rejection.

Don't look at the way of deflection, those costumes. The actual music played gives Satan a way to deal with the one who takes it in. No one conjures Satan without a price.
