

INTIMIDATION SPIRIT

THE GREAT WAY SAYS:

You saw a person “throw you under the bus,” as would be stated when someone causes the blame to fall on one who is truly innocent. When you worked with an old work way, you were dealing with this demon very often, for many times, others would take a plan to look as if they have no issues but would place any areas of weakness or lack in production as if it was your fault that things didn’t work out well.

You recall details where you “took the fall” and would take any responsibility concerning any plan that was given in the workplace. When the sales were off, you would take a plan within to review what could really build up better sales the next time. People would blame coworkers, weather, and the customers when sales were down, yet no one moving with this demon wanted to ever take a poor presentation to upper management.

You have recently seen this demon take a place in showing a way in presentation, to make it seem to the person they feared rejection from, that if they were to be displeased, to blame you, even where they were the one to cause the root detail. When this spirit is influencing a person, they will also move in deep people-pleasing just due to the nature of that demon and what it feeds with: fear.

The demon known as Fear will be close and would push people-pleasing with heavy intimidation and would make a person drink lying ways to look good, with a tainted dealing in nature. It would be hard to be close to these people when they have this demon within, for they will make sure they live protected ways yet would have you take on whatever storm may come—just with you out there—without help.

Don’t take up offensive ways when faced with dealing with this demon. The nature to make you take a fall into a blamed way is the nature of the demon mentioned, and they will make sure that no attention is given to their way when conflict is seen.

Stand firm in integrity and protect those under and with you. That plan truly will keep a doorway shut and will give no place to this demon that heavily infiltrates those in broken homes and battered relationships.
